Freak Crashes Occur During Combat Flight

An Airfield In Korea, (AP)—Six Marine Panther jets, returning from a combat mission in heavy overcast smashed into neighboring peaks in South Korea at dusk last Thursday while attempting to find a friendly Air Force field.

All six pilots were killed, Air Force officers said.

Word of the tragic mishap was withheld pending notification of next of kin. None of the victims lived in Pennsylvania.

The jets were part of a group of 21 ordered to land at an alternate field when bad weather closed in on the squadron's home base. The remaining 15 arrived there safely.

The flight of six, headed by a lieutenant, radioed it was over the Air Force field. He said they were short of fuel. That was the last word.

Helicopters and Allied planes searched the area the following morning. They found the wreckage in rough terrain between Taegu and Pohang on the old U. N. defense perimeter in Southwest Korea.

Five of the Panthers piled up on one mountainside. The sixth had flown over the top of the first mountain only to plough into another just beyond.

Officers expressed belief the planes had followed the flight leader to their deaths. Apparently the lieutenant's instruments were faulty.

An unofficial source said the planes crashed in Red guerrilla territory, that guerrillas fired on helicopters trying to land, and that paratroopers recovered the bodies and carried them out by land. There was no confirmation of this.

Sabres Smash Air Records

Seoul (AP) — Sabre jet pilots, possibly equipped with a deadly new combat device, shot down four more Communist MIGs yesterday, eclipsing all records for enemy planes destroyed in a single month.

U. S. Fifth Air Force headquarters announced its pilots had blasted 45 Russian-built jets in confirmed kills thus far this month. A carrier-based Marine pilot added one to make the total 46. Four other pilot claims are pending. The old record was 44 in April.

Other confirmed claims for the month included three MIGs probably destroyed and 37 damaged for a grand total of 86 MIGs destroyed or damaged.

Allied losses for the week will be announced Saturday. For the first 12 days of September, however, the Air Force announced two Sabre jets and three slower F84 Thunderjets shot down in combat and six others lost by other causes.

Assailant Flees Into IRT Tunnel In Hail Of Shot

New York, (AP)—A lust-crazed man tried to attack first one woman and then a second on a subway platform yesterday. When police closed in, he escaped into the dark, dangerous train tunnel in a hail of bullets.

The bold, daytime assaults brought police swarming to the upper Broadway stops of the IRT subway to try to trap the fugitive, a six-foot Negro.

Hundreds of passersby were attracted by the commotion.

Trains, which normally roar through the tunnel in the mounting rush of late afternoon, inched along slowly as police with drawn guns conducted a grim, eerie underground search, lighted by the feeble rays of flashlights.

Both women disappeared in the excitement and their names were not learned.

Stevenson Blasts Character Attacks, Confers With McCarthy's Election Foe

Springfield, Ill., (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson questioned last night whether anyone has true freedom of speech "when not only his views but his very reputation are subjected to irresponsible, distorted attack by others."

The Democratic presidential nominee raised the point in a Constitution Day statement shortly after he had conferred with Thomas Fairchild, Democratic opponent of Republican Sen. Joseph McCarthy in Wisconsin's U. S. Senate race.

After the conference, Fairchild told newsmen he has "a very good fighting chance" to win in November over McCarthy, who has kicked up a national controversy with his charges that Communists and Red sympathizers have worked their way into government jobs.

Fairchild declined to say whether Stevenson shares his optimism about winning over McCarthy in November. He said the Illinois governor would have to speak for himself on that.

In his statement issued in connection with the observance of Constitution Day today, Stevenson named no names in denouncing "irresponsible, distorted" attacks on character and reputation. The statement said in part:

"The 10 amendments which make up the Bill of Rights are primarily concerned with protecting certain rights of citizens, such as freedom of speech and the right to a fair trial, against infringement by the government. This is necessary and proper. For every power granted to the government, there should be a safeguard against its arbitrary use.

"But a citizen may well suffer the loss of these rights at the hand of a fellow citizen as well as at the hand of government. Does anyone have true freedom of speech when not only his views but his very character and reputation are to be subjected to irresponsible, distorted attack by others?"

Eisenhower Flies Back To New York For AFL Speech After Interrupting Tour

New York, (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower flew back to New York last night, in preparation for today's address to the AFL convention. In doing so he interrupted a 12-day tour which brought him a triumphal ticker-tape reception in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

His chartered plane landed at LaGuardia Airport at 9:20 p. m.

Blizzards of ticker tape and confetti showered upon Eisenhower during his visit to the Twin Cities.

Police estimated more than 300,000 persons lined the streets and hung out of windows to see the tan suit-clad general, waving and smiling, get one of the biggest receptions a Republican ever received in the normally Democratic Twin Cities.

The Republican presidential nominee wound up two days of whistle stop campaigning in Indiana, Illinois and Minnesota by telling a crowd of 12,000 persons at the state capitol in St. Paul that he is convinced that people want a change in administrations in Washington.

Eisenhower told the applauding Capitol Plaza crowd he had found administration "fumbling" on foreign affairs the chief concern of the people he met at the "whistle stops." He accused the Democratic administration of "frittering away" the peace gained on the battlefields.

The general's party made a brief stop at the University of Minnesota, where Eisenhower met members of the Minnesota football team and chatted with Athletic Director Ike Armstrong and Head Coach Wes Fesler.

Eisenhower's wife, Mamie, was given as big a cheer as her famed husband when she was introduced to the crowd in St. Paul.

One of the highlights of his tour was a football-style welcome given him by students at the Carleton College Stadium at Northfield.

A crowd of 9,000 college students packing nearly every seat of the stadium gave Eisenhower a vociferous welcome led by cheer leaders.

Maryland Man Spots Three 'Jailbreakers'

Silver Spring, Md. (AP)—A Silver Spring man spotted last night three men he identified as prisoners who escaped last week from the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa.

Silver Spring police said George Kirnan identified the three from police photographs. He said they walked into a diner in which he was sitting and ordered food at the counter.

He said they did not wait to be served, but walked out of the diner and drove toward nearby Washington in a car bearing a Virginia license. Washington police were alerted.

The report was the first to place the three men in the Washington area. The search had been centered largely in Pennsylvania, though various conflicting reports of their being seen had been received in other areas.

Joseph Nolen, 28, and his brother, Ballard, 22, of Woodbine, Ky., and Elmer Schuer, 21, of Chicago, escaped from the penitentiary last Wednesday by scaling a wall. They

Agents Press Manhunt On Blue Mountain

Pottsville (AP)—The search for three escaped bank robbers who have led authorities a wide-spread chase since last Wednesday last night shifted to a wild mountain area in East-Central Pennsylvania.

State police would say little about the latest development in the search for the three much sought after convicts except to confirm that road blocks had been established in an area bounded roughly by the towns of New Tripoli in Lehigh County, Drehersville and New Reingold in Schuylkill County and Krumsville, in Berks County.

That would centralize the latest police move in a wild section dotted with mountains and woodlands.

Meanwhile, hopes that the convicts could be located in the Scranton area fizzled. Arthur W. Cornelius, special FBI agen in charge of the Philadelphia office, said in Scranton he was returning to Philadelphia with most of the 25 G-men who had been assigned to the manhunt in the Lackawana Valley.

Cornelius did not comment on the reported shift of the search to the Schuylkill-Lehigh County area.

The converging of state troopers in the area centered on a 1300-foot peak known as Blue Mountain, one ridge of which forms the Hawk Mountain bird sanctuary.

State police would not say what caused the sudden movement of machinegun-carrying officers to that region, but it was noted that the area is studded with a number of caves and thick woods where the three escaped prisoners could remain undetected for days.

Civil Air Patrol and private planes from the Schuylkill Airport at Pinedale, Pa., flew over the blocked-off area but there were no official reports of what they saw.

The trio of bank robbers who scaled the wall at Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary last Wednesday, still managed to evade one of the greatest manhunts in Pennsylvania history.

A force of 350 police and federal agents had guarded all highways in the Scranton area, while all citizens were alerted to keep watch for the prisoners, described as "desperate and vicious."

State police and FBI agents inspected traffic in and out of Scranton as roadblocks were set up at dozens of places. The three men were reported Monday in that coal mining area.

Soviet Union Vetoes Libya

United Nations, N. Y. (AP) — Russia vetoed Libya's application for membership in the United Nations yesterday. The negative vote of Soviet delegate Jacob A. Malik was Russia's 51st veto of a majority decision in the Security Council.

The 10 other Security Council members voted for admitting the new kingdom in North Africa, which was formed as a result of U. N. decisions disposing of Mussolini's old overseas Italian empire.

Ann St. Building Burns; Adjoining Houses Saved

Roaring flame devoured nearly all of the three-story old frame blacksmith building on Ann St., Stroudsburg, last night.

The alarm went in at 10:45 p. m. By the time fire trucks careened down the street and arrived at the scene the structure was literally encased in hugh sheets of orange flame.

Firemen dropped to the street running as the trucks rolled to a stop. Hoses unrolled behind the moving vehicles.

Already the crowds of spectators, also running, were thickening in the parking lot behind the A & P, wearing everything from overcoats to pajamas and bathrobes.

As thick streams angled upward into the blazing building there was a heavy arcing and crackling. Flashes of blue shot from the power lines across the street and several wires dropped to the street. No one was injured.

Firemen started to move in with hose lines, but the crews jockeying the powerful streams were forced back again by the fierce heat blasting out from the building.

First worry was whether the flames would leap west across the narrow alley to ignite the adjoining building, owned by Mrs. Tod Walker, at 539 Ann St. At least four of the hose lines were concentrated on the red-hot side of the Walker home.

It was saved, although heat cracked the windows and water entered the attic section of the three-story house.

Mrs. Walker and Miss Edith Heller, who lives with her, were asleep in their second floor bedroom when the fire started.

They were awakened by neighbors pounding on the door and yelling "Teddy, Edie, hurry-up—fire!" Both women dressed hurriedly and left the building.

The same neighbors pounded on the adjoining door, No. 541, where Quentin DelGrosso, his wife, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DelGrosso, shared the other half of the double house.

Quentin's wife had just finished hanging out the wash in the backyard a short time before the fire. After the family was safely out, and after firemen ran hoselines around through the backyard to tackle the blaze from the creek side, Quentin took the wash in again.

The whole building, about 60 feet wide on the Ann St. side, about 35 feet high and reaching from Ann St. to the edge of the creek in depth, went up in a huge puff of flame. After the fiercest part of the blaze was knocked down, firemen moved in for the kill. The blaze was reduced to a mass of smoking, fire-chewed timbers and portions of buckled walls by 12:15 a.m.

The alarm was turned in by Harry Smith, across the street at 528 Ann St., and about 25 yards from the structure.

The family had been watching an amateur show on television. The show finished, they rose and Mrs. Smith went to the front door. She had opened it only a crack when she saw the bright orange glow mushrooming upward in the old blacksmith shop.

"It seemed to start in the lower part and toward the back," she said. Mr. Smith telephoned the alarm. Before he got the call through, fire had shot upward through the roof. The heat of the flames was so intense the Smiths had to shield themselves behind the door to watch. The heat also cracked windows next door, where Mrs. Smith's brother, Harold VanWhy, lives.

In the house directly across the street from the building was Mrs. Arlington Bowman, widow of "Bitty" Bowman, former operator of the smithy, who died 11 years ago.

Since that time, Mrs. Walker and other residents said, the place has been used as a storage shed. Current users are the operators of Park Market, Stroudsburg, who, it was reported, had orange crates and baskets stored inside in large quantities.

There was no estimate of damages last night. Mrs. Walker, good humored despite the scare, had a comment as she stood on her front porch watching the finale:

"I've been after the painters to come. I was expecting them today to paint the house and they didn't show up—thank the Lord!"

ABOUT 20 MINUTES after the alarm went in, flames had gutted most of the old blacksmith shop on Ann St., used in recent years as a storage shed for a grocery market. One of the fiercest blazes in Stroudsburg in more than a year, the heat cracked windows across the street. Adjoining building was saved by prompt action of firemen. There were no injuries. Cause of blaze was unknown.

Reds Purge Two

Paris (AP)—The French Communist party has purged the militant Andre Marty and Charles Tillon from high party posts for breaches of discipline, Paris newspapers said yesterday.

Truman Renews Demand For Health Insurance

Philadelphia, (AP)—Renewing his demand for national health insurance for the people "at a price they can afford to pay," President Truman yesterday tagged the views of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on that subject a "pull back."

And he linked the GOP presidential candidate with those who "really want to go back to the horse and buggy days."

Eisenhower's statement in New York Sunday condemning "compulsory health insurance" and calling for "locally administered indigent medical care programs" brought this retort from Truman:

"That's about like saying we don't need any form of social security except the county poor house."

The President's speech, billed in advance by the White House as "non-political," was made to a luncheon crowd of approximately 2,500 at the annual meeting of the American Hospital Association in Convention Hall after a trip by special train from Washington. The association has long been a backer of voluntary medical insurance plans.

New York (AP)—President Truman told the AFL yesterday that Dwight D. Eisenhower is backing "the most anti-labor platform... submitted to the country in at least 16 years."

In a message read to the 71st American Federation of Labor Convention, Truman said "plans are afoot in Wall Street" in the event of a GOP victory this year to "make the Taft-Hartley law even more oppressive and unfair than it is at present."

Taylor Quits With Blast At Pentagon

Washington (AP)—Telford Taylor stepped out as head of the Small Defense Plants Administration (SDPA) yesterday with a blast at Pentagon buying policies.

In a farewell report to President Truman, Taylor said Secretary of Defense Lovett has shown "lack of enthusiasm" for placing military orders with small companies. He said, too, that the general attitude at the Pentagon was "cool, not to say uncourtly" toward his program.

Lovett fired back. He told a news conference he had "great enthusiasm for procuring the right material at the right price at the right time."

Then he added: "I have little enthusiasm for Mr. Taylor sticking his arms through my sleeves to sign defense contracts."

Taylor issued his report just before John E. Horne of Clayton, Ala., was sworn in to succeed him as SDPA administrator. Horne has been deputy administrator since last November. Taylor is returning to private law practice in New York.

Gusts Up To 163 MPH Or More Reported

Honolulu, (AP)— A great typhoon with gusts up to 160 miles an hour hit Wake suddenly Monday, driving churning seas across the whole island and smashing nearly every building there.

About 750 persons on the stepping stone for the Korean airlift fled the storm's fury by taking refuge in underground shelters the Japanese built during the war. They escaped with only two injuries reported.

The Weather Bureau at Los Angeles said it had received reports that Wake was hit by gusts up to 214 knots (243 miles an hour). It said, if true, that probably would be a record.

The typhoon winds reached 163.5 miles per hour at Wake before the measuring instruments were blown away, reported Honolulu Weather Bureau forecaster Don Gould. He said it was the first typhoon in 11 years to hit the island, and the worst in his memory.

The first relief plane to reach the devastated island was a Navy Martin Mariner flying boat from Kwajalein. It brought a load of emergency rations and blankets yesterday morning, Hawaiian time.

A Pan American Stratocruiser, three military transports and a Civil Aeronautics Authority transport from Honolulu followed close behind, heavily laden with drinking water, food and tents. Wake's limited water supply was ruined when the seas broke over the island.

Rear Adm. Stuart S. Murrey, commander of the Hawaiian Sea Frontier, ordered the evacuation of about 500 persons, including 75 women and children as soon as possible. Murray is directing the Wake relief and rescue operation.

Eight planes were caught at Wake when the storm broke Monday.

When the winds subsided and the seas retreated, the 750 came out from underground and huddled in parked planes or in four steel and concrete buildings all that remained standing after the typhoon, riding 140-mile winds, screamed out to sea.

The four buildings, scene of the war talks between President Truman and Gen. MacArthur in 1950, stood firm while the temporary buildings of war days were flattened by winds and 30-foot waves.

The island, 2,300 miles west of Honolulu, rises only 15 feet above sea level. It was no match for the sea when the typhoon howled in from the southeast.

First word of the storm came from Jay D. Eubanks, Los Anman on Wake. He revved up the generator of a grounded American Airlines plane under contract to Pan American for its Korea airlift, restored its radio to life and sent a message to the Navy in Honolulu.

Son Meets Same Fate As Father As Plane Crashes

Bridlington, Eng. (AP)—Bouncing wreckage from a plane crash yesterday killed Mark Harrison as he worked in a field—the same way his father died a few years ago.

The pilot, also killed, was Flying Officer Antony Ellwood, 29, son of Royal Air Force Air Marshal Sir Aubrey Ellwood.

The plane, a jet fighter, struck the ground and was torn to pieces while Ellwood was making a low level run over the countryside.

One chunk of debris struck Harrison, 30, who was loading dirt on a truck.

Friends said his father was killed in a similar accident at a nearby RAF station in World War II.

Margaret Truman Has New Hairdo

Hollywood (AP)—Margaret Truman had the press in her hair yesterday, all because she's changed her coiffure.

To those who spotted the new hairdo—it's parted on the right—she said she had no comment, because she sees nothing unusual in the change. She has changed it before and she may change it again.

A few years ago the President's daughter wore the part on the left side. Then she adopted a center part, with short curls radiating out from the part line. This was the way her hair was done during her European trip and when she returned to New York.

Easing Of Housing Credit To Have Little Effect In Handling Of Building Loans

Lifting of emergency controls over housing credit by the federal government Monday is just another announcement where banking institutions in Monroe County are concerned.

A survey conducted by The Daily Record yesterday shows there will be little or no change in handling of loans to potential home owners.

The dropping of Regulation X, which became effective October, 1950 as an emergency measure to prescribe the size of down payments on new homes or commercial purchases, was momentarily welcomed by prospective buyers. Their expectations proved short-lived, however, when many phoned local banks and savings and loan associations to ask "When can I come in and get my loan." One banker said he answered "When you can put 40 per cent down on the home."

Bankers describe the easement as having no particular pressure on this area. Most banks previously asked 40 per cent as a down-payment, and indicated yesterday they still are maintaining that request.

Building and Loan Association spokesmen said their loans were based on a varied list of reasoning, depending on the down-payment the purchaser could make, nature of the loan and declarations by builders.

Housing Administrator Raymond M. Foley indicated in Washington Monday he was not too happy about loosening the curbs on housing credit. But he said he believes Regulation X might be back soon.

Most loan agencies throughout the country are expected to follow suit in holding the line on demands for substantial down-payments. Some may relax requirements where the government makes the loan or backs it. This applies to housing under the Federal Housing Administration, the Veterans Administration and the Department of Agriculture.

The following table shows sample differences in loan guarantees by FHA under Regulation X and after suspension of Regulation X. The down payment is the difference between the guaranteed loan and the purchase price. A 5 per cent down payment is required up to $7,000.

Price	Before	Now (Z)
$8,000	$7,050	$7,350
9,000	7,800	8,050
10,000	8,550	8,750
12,000	9,600	9,600
15,000	11,300	12,000
18,000	12,650	14,000

(Z) Under Regulation X the loan was made on the basis of a fixed percentage.

Monroe County Given Opportunity To Make Up Blood Deficit

Mobile Unit To Be Here On Thursday

If the preesnt shortage continues, Monroe County may soon be literally living off the life blood of neighboring counties.

Because of the fall-off of blood donors, Monroe County already "owes" 168 pints to the blood bank.

Despite the decline in donations locally, the county's credit at the blood bank remains intact, for the central "bank" at Wilkes-Barre is available to every member hospital.

However, if the slow-down in donations continues the shortage may become acute. Adding to the difficulty is the step-up in fighting on the Korean front, resulting in more calls for blood.

Monroe County's quota this year is 1,500 pints of blood. The quota for June, July and August was 375 pints, but only 207 were collected.

To make up the deficit, a special trip of the Bloodmobile has been scheduled.

The truck will be at the Elks Club, East Stroudsburg, Thursday.

The special trip was in answer to pleas by the county's worried physician's alarmed over the growing shortage.

The day has been designated "Bud Place Day." Place, a Stroudsburg man, knows what blood donations mean. He's been kept alive by them for two years.

Walter T. Place is victim of a rare disease which results in blood vessels so weak they rupture under the slightest strain. Place has received 148 free pints of blood from the blood bank in the last two years.

No charge is ever made for blood received from the blood bank. The entire expense of the program is underwritten by the National Red Cross and by local Red Cross chapters through their annual campaigns. The blood bank at Wilkes-Barre is also financed by the Red Cross.

The county's quota this year is equal to a pint of blood from one out of every 22 residents of the county. However, many of the donors are proud "repeaters, some of whom have donated more than a gallon.

Any person may donate blood once every nine weeks under the program—and any resident of Monroe County can ask for and receive blood without charge, from blood bank supplies, if he is in a hospital away from home.

Public Nursing Service Reports Greater Caseload

The Summer caseload of the Monroe County Organization Public Health Nursing was reviewed last night at the first Fall meeting of the board of directors with Paul Dellaria, president, in charge.

The Summer saw an increasing caseload, and a widening of the field with cases listed for Tobyhanna, Barrett and the West End, the report of Mrs. Virginia DePue, executive director, indicated.

Need for the positive side of health education with a view of preventing illness was stressed in addition to bedside nursing care.

The resignations of Rev. Walter Johnston and Mrs. Roger Dunning were accepted and recommendations made by the board to fill those vacancies.

The general plan of the Community Chest campaign was outlined and the responsibility of the Nursing service as a Red Feather Agency was assigned.

New Stamp Goes On Sale

A two-year veteran of the Women's Air Force (WAF), A/1C Theresa Mulderig purchased the first three-cent stamp honoring women in the armed services at Stroudsburg's Postoffice.

Miss Mulderig, a Scranton native, currently is on recruiting service in this area, with headquarters in Scranton. She purchased the stamp from Fred Rhodes, local postmaster.

Postal authorities have been authorized to print 110,000,000 of the stamps termed "Women in Our Armed Services." The blue stamps have modified Roman lettering across the top signifying the title and the center portrays four women attired in uniforms of the Marines, Army, Navy and Air Corps. A view of the national capitol forms the background.

Children's Aid Society Needs Foster Homes

The need for foster homes in which children who are wards of the Children's Aid Society may be cared for was the most pressing business at the meeting of the board of directors yesterday afternoon at the CAS headquarters on Sarah St., Stroudsburg.

There is always a need for new foster homes, but the need right now is critical because of the influx of children coming under the care of the society during the summer, and the prospect of another large group in September.

Mrs. Frank L. Patterson Jr. presided at yesterday's board meeting with a large number of directors present including two of the new board members: Mrs. Marvin Krome, of Gilbert and Walter McClelland, Stroudsburg.

In reporting the summer's activities in all fields, Mrs. Jean Albert, executive secretary, explained the increase of eight children during the summer, and of the possibility of more to be added during the fall.

Three new foster homes were put into use this summer and four more are being studied, she announced, but with five homes closed, there is already an acute shortage which promises to become even more critical.

Five children left the care of the society during the summer, three to their mother, one to the father; and two who have reached the age of 18, and who are continuing graduate study on their own initiative.

Mrs. Patterson announced the state advisory board meeting to be held in Harrisburg on October 24, and plans for the agency's responsibilities in the coming Community Chest campaign were discussed. The annual audit had been completed, it was announced.

Mrs. Patterson announced committees for the coming year.

Lions Club Holds Annual Clambake

The annual clambake of the Stroudsburg Lions Club was held on Sunday at Ressaca Falls, the use of the grounds having been donated to the club by the proprietor.

Weather conditions were ideal and the attendance was large. Women and children were included in the party.

Joseph Kovarick, chairman, Zig Viechnicki, Lester Abeloff, Frank MacNamara and others backed up by President Harry Phillips were in charge of arrangements.

Installation Of Permanent X-Ray Equipment Considered By County Tuberculosis Society

Monroe County Tuberculosis Society directors last night reviewed the first report on a proposal to replace the current system of mobile X-rays with a permanent equipment installation in its headquarters.

Dr. Paul Shiffer, chairman of X-ray and chest survey on the society and Dr. M. J. Leitner both submitted facts relating to the proposal.

Such a move would eliminate the diagnostic uncertainties of the small 72-millimeter X-ray picture now obtained from the mobile units and replace it with a larger four-by-five-inch film.

Establishment of a permanent, central headquarters would also permit privacy in X-raying and permit the degree of disrobing required for more efficient results.

Dr. Shiffer, Dr. Leitner and Arthur Slee, chairman of the public health committee were named to a committee to develop final details on costs, probability of cooperation with another agency or agencies and other final data required for a decision at the November 4 meeting.

The board welcomed Mrs. Reeves Price, Max Stadfeld and Leon Koster, all new members.

Mrs. Estelle Fleming advised board members they are all invited to the eastern Pennsylvania conference of the Pennsylvania TB and Health Society at Allentown Sept. 22 and 23.

The local society, which last year sponsored a major health meeting with Dr. Russell Teague, state health secretary as speaker, is again aiding in the sponsorship of a similar meeting here at the Penn-Stroud Hotel, Nov. 19.

Monroe County Medical Society and its auxiliary are co-sponsors. Arrangements are now being made for a speaker of unusual merit.

All health agencies will be asked to set up displays to show what they do in relation to public health work in Monroe County.

Preliminary steps are now being taken to set up the annual Christmas Seal sale.

Other board members present were Mrs. Robert Hartman, Jonas T. May, Arthur Ifft and H. G. Heller.

Sportsmen Meet Tonight

Pocono Mountains Sportsmen's Association tonight will develop plans for the fall and winter season and devote considerable time to study of new games law proposal and membership effort.

This is the first meeting since May. The association always recesses during the summer.

Members will received a complete report on the Junior Conservation Camp at State College. The association sponsored one of the regional boys who attended the camp.

Meeting will start promptly at 7 p.m. Some attention will also be devoted to the trout season this year.

Pocono Chorus Plans Activity

Delaware Water Gap — The Pocono Male Chorus rehearsed Monday night at the home of Robert Kaiser, here. Fifteen members were present.

Plans were made for September 21 when the chorus sings at the 11 a. m. service in Bethany Baptist Church, Scranton. Rev. Elias Auger, who formerly served at Beakleyville Baptist and at Portland, is now serving the church in Scranton. The chorus arranged to meet at 9 a. m. Sunday at the home of G. Alvin Shook, Ninth St., Stroudsburg. Transportation will be arranged.

At the conclusion of the rehearsal, Miss Nellie Burd, assisted by Mrs. Otto Gehm and Mrs. Inga Brown, served refreshments in honor of the birthday of Robert Kaiser.

Radar For Speeders

It is going to be mighty hard for the cartoonists to give up one of their favorite subjects, that of the motorcycle cop hiding behind an advertising signboard as he waits for the unwary speeder to zoom along.

Yet that seems to be in the cards, however long it may take to become nation-wide, since the successful development of a radar camera for use on major highways. This camera, which has been used experimentally in Westchester County, New York, is beamed down on a highway from a bridge or some other elevated point, and automatically photographs those cars moving faster than the limit permitted on that particular route.

It can be set, apparently, for any speed desired and is tireless in its operation, as the movie film passes across the lens. Test cases are being prepared to find out about the legality of the device, but it would seem that it should be quite as legal as the measured mile and the stop-watch, to say nothing of the speedometer of the pursuing police.

Of course, it must be admitted that wholesale adoption of this new gadget to cut the speed on our highways would take a lot of the fun out of life for those who enjoy pursuit, whether they are chasing or being chased.

However, the fact remains that anything that will improve the safety record of our highways is something that should be developed and encouraged, and it seems to us that this latest use of radar is something for all police departments to investigate.

Mr. Snyder's Advice

Our Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder, went to the 54-nation meeting of the International Monetary Fund in Mexico City and handed out some good advice.

He recommended to all these nations that they "take the difficult road" by adopting fiscal and monetary policies which discourage inflation, rather than following the "easy road" of trying to control inflation after it has started.

This was in line with the report of the International Monetary Fund which said that the member nations have been creating inflation and throwing international finance out of balance by spending beyond their means.

Mr. Snyder's advice would have been more convincing if his own government had followed these policies.

The biggest inflationary pressure in the United States is government spending. It is made more inflationary because it is deficit spending. And fretting about inflation after it was here has been one of the Truman administration's most consistent practices.

Amen, Mr. Corbett

One of Pennsylvania's representatives in Congress made a short speech the other night that was good medicine for Democrats, Republicans and independents, too.

Robert J. Corbett of the 29th District, was commenting on the pressure applied during campaigns by special groups—farm, labor, business, youth,minority groups, who all want this and that.

Candidates and political leaders must pay attention, too, because the bolting of even one bloc can defeat a candidate.

How much better it would be, said Mr. Corbett, if spokesmen for these groups would say, "What's best for America?" rather than the old familiar, "What do I get out of it?"

Mr. Corbett spoke himself a sensible mouthful.

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

Socialist Neutralism

It has been fashionable in recent years, in this country, for those in both parties who deal with international problems, to believe that a "Third Force" can save Europe from Russia. They have therefore tended to support the various Socialist groups which take a middle position between the United States and Soviet Russia. In effect, it is more and more becoming American policy, by indirection, to support neutralism in Europe.

The British Labour Party has, under the influence of Aneurin Bevan, been developing neutralistic tendencies. Although at a recent meeting of the party, the Bevan faction was defeated, its strength was apparent. It is probable that should the Labour Party return to power, Bevan will be its leader. He is a National Socialist of Marxist persuasion, who places the United States on a par with Soviet Russia from a British standpoint. He seeks, for Great Britain, a balance of power between the United States and Soviet Russia, with Great Britain allied to neither but benefiting from both.

While the British Labour Party has never been in agreement with the United States on its China policy or the Korean War, it is possible to say with accuracy that the Conservative Party has been of divided opinion and not altogether favorably disposed. Great Britain, whether Labour or Conservative, desired that the United States recognize Soviet China, as the British did, with a view to assisting British trade. Both parties were antagonistic to General Douglas MacArthur.

The British forces assigned to the Korean War amount to about 23,000 as compared to 600,000 Americans. American casualties have amounted to approximately 120,000; British to over 3,000; Americans killed amount to about 20,000; the British killed to over 500.

Yet, the British insist upon determining the policy of this war. So far as the British are concerned, the re-establishment of the 38th parallel ended the Korean War. Yet Americans are being killed there every day.

In a full dress debate on this subject in the House of Commons, the following resolution was introduced by Mr. Noel-Baker (Labour):

"That this House, while appreciating that the Government and armed forces of the United States of America have borne the major share of the burden of resisting armed aggression in Korea, regrets the failure of Her Majesty's Government to secure effective consultation prior to recent developments, including consultation on the timing of certain recent air operations; and considers that improved arrangements should now be made to enable such consultation to take place between the Governments principally concerned on issues of United Nations policy in the Far East."

It is important to note that this is what he proposed:

"He agreed that military operations could not be run by a committee—there must be a command—and that 16 Governments could not be told in advance about impending plans and operations . . . but he maintained that we could have not only a British deputy chief of staff, but a more fully integrated command under General Mark Clark, and a small but strong political sub-committee of the United Nations to study and consider at high level the big political issues as they arose.

"But more adequate machinery would not suffice if the Government failed to assert their right to consultation . . ."

Churchill came to our defense. It is interesting to note some of the things he said:

" . . . What the Communists had lost in the field they recovered at the haggling table of Panmunjon. If they compared the position today with what it was a year ago, they could see how shrewd and well-timed was the Russian request for an armistice and how heavy had been the cost to the American armies who were bearing nine-tenths of the burden and the brunt of the war in Korea . . .

"It was said that the United States forces had had 32,000 casualties in the bickering on the front during the armistice negotiations. We had 1,200 . . . "

I wish to call attention to the fact that I wrote, at the time that the armistice was proposed, that this would happen. I say this not in pride but rather to point out that this has always been the way of the Chinese Communists; that Chiang Kai-shek lost Manchuria and North China because he was forced by the United States to accept a similar armistice with the Chinese Communists.

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

A group of world leaders of the Presbyterian Church met in Scotland for a conference, and on a warm summer's afternoon, went off to explore the beautiful countryside. Coming to a temporary bridge that spanned a swift-running stream, they started confidently to cross it. When they were half way over, the bridge keeper suddenly appeared and hollered that the bridge had been declared unsafe. The spokesman for the church party didn't quite hear the keeper's admonition and called back, "It's all right, my friend. We're Presbyterians from the conference." The bridge keeper replied, "If ye dinna get off the bridge this minute ye'll all be Baptists!"

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington — The Democratic party's candidate for President, Gov. Adlai Stevenson, has convinced many of his listeners that he is using his wit and raillery to avoid issues he knows little about or those he would just rather not talk about.

The governor can be compared to Victor Borge, the international comedian-pianist. There is a resemblance. It ends with the physical, however, since Borge tells better jokes.

Professional politicians shudder at the comparison. They are convinced that nobody ever joked his way into the White House. They're also convinced that the country is fed up with piano playing politicians. They are willing to grant that Stevenson has established himself as a man of wit, if such has been his intention, and that he has captured the bald headed vote by frequent references to his own de-haired condition. At this point great doubt emerges as to the political wisdom in becoming a national good humor man. And there is one issue that keeps his advisors awake nights. Nobody knows when he will start to joke about the war in Korea.

The governor, of course, never lets up on the left-wing propaganda that attempts to divide U.S. citizens into two classes. Using long words and round-about measures, he constantly alludes to the rich and reactionary Republicans in comparison to the poor but liberal Democrats. His classic crack along this line is that to "live like a Republican you have to vote like a Democrat."

There is no evidence, however, that Republicans as such are buying food, clothing and other essentials at a cut rate in comparison to those registered on the voting lists as Democrats; there is no evidence that Republicans as a class are paying less of the annual income tax load.

The evidence is to the contrary. Countless Democratic politicians, as congressional hearings on the Bureau of Internal Revenue reveal, are the ones enjoying cut rate taxation. The favor has even been extended to gangsters who make the proper payments to the Democratic National Committee in the fashion of campaign contributions. Others have been rewarded with Justice Department neglect of war fraud indictments.

There is one thing, however, that can be said of the governor. He was totally frank in admitting that a "mess" exists in Washington, although he did not endear himself to the White House in the process. This may be the clue to Stevenson's decision to joke his way into the hearts of the voters. Often when a mess gets so bad nothing can be done there is little else to do but laugh. It relieves the horror.

In his recent farm speech Stevenson wowed his listeners by accusing Gen. Eisenhower of "plowing under" the Republican farm plank. The humor didn't last long. Too many remember the wild-eyed Secretary of Agriculture, Henry Wallace, when he was plowing under little pigs and various farm crops on the misguided theory that scarcity would create abundance and that farmers with nothing to sell could get higher prices for it. Most unamused of all were department of agriculture officials who accompanied Stevenson and advised him about what to say to the farmers. They all readily admit the "plowing under" crack was entirely the governor's own idea.

It may be that Stevenson is a product of the new age in America, an age supposedly ushered in by television. Many, especially comedians, have gained instant notoriety after a few sessions before television cameras. Since the governor is not prepossessing in appearance and is vastly unknown to Americans at large, it may be essential for him to impose his personality as a wit upon us in the shortest possible time. After all, a lot of people know who Milton Berle is.

I, for one, however, am inclined to believe that Stevenson is forced into being funny because he knows that few voters will be grateful if their minds dwell for long on the "mess" in Washington.

This may be an unfair oversimplification of the governor's intentions, but until I'm convinced otherwise, it will have to do. Like most of you, I like a good joke, but try as I may I can't see anything very funny in what is going on here today.

My New York

—By Mel Heimer

Lambertville, N. J.—"Well," I had said, with the great frankness and candor for which I am famous, "the only way to give an honest opinion about whether the music-circus idea is any good is to go and see it. But I warn you—if I think it's a turkey, I will mince no words. I will be harsh."

This is the way in which all newspapermen worth their salt behave, currying favor from no man—so here I lay in the middle of Sinjin Terrell's swimming pool, once more negotiating my skillful dead man's float, and getting a good objective slant on the music-circus idea. "Why, it isn't bad at all," I mediated aloud, as the sky full of stars winked back at me gravely.

Mr. Terrell, Chicago-born, given name St. John, is the producer of the original music-circus, situated here in New Jersey, halfway between Times Square and Market street in Philly. His lovely little country house is a mile down the road from the circus, and his swimming pool is in the back of his lovely little country house, and I was in the swimming pool.

I wouldn't exactly say I was getting a prejudiced approach to reviewing the music-circus candidly, but there was a dry martini for me on the edge of the pool, a couple of flashy blondes lolling around in chairs, and dinner on the fire. I guess you all know me well enough to know that I wouldn't let things like that influence my judgment.

The Music-Circus is almost but not quite what it sounds like. It is held under a tent, just like a circus, and there are big red wagons outside selling hot dogs, and the whole air is that of a circus—except that what they hold under the tent is a musical play.

This night, for example, they were doing "Kiss Me Kate" and they already were rehearsing "Allegro," which was a magnificent flop on Broadway but which O. Hammerstein reported was responsible for the fact that his heart hadn't kicked up at all.

And here are 12 rules which apply not only to people with heart trouble, but to everybody who is getting along in years:

1. Avoid over fatigue. Stop before you get too tired.
2. Reduce if you are overweight
3. Get a good balanced diet.
4. Eat four or five light meals a day instead of three large ones. And no HEAVY meals at any time.
5. Try to avoid colds.
6. Get at least eight hours sleep at night.
7. Exercise MODERATELY and according to your doctor's advice.
8. Argue and worry as little as possible.
9. Relax and take rest period naps during the day.
10. Go easy on coffee and tobacco.
11. Walk, don't run upstairs. Walk, don't run at any time.
12. Find some sport or hobby that is FUN rather than a strain on you.

And here is a piece of my own advice: (I had a heart attack four years ago and I'm still here)

Some day you're going to die anyway. So why die a thousand deaths of worry?

NEW MIRACLE DRUG?

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

There are three pieces of advice that cannot be given too often.

No. 1 Is "Drive carefully."

No. 2 "Vote in November."

No. 3 "Don't worry."

The first two have been discussed over and over again. However, there will still have been close to 40,000 people killed in automobile accidents this year and there will still be some 40,000,000 people who won't go to the polls.

It's No. 3 that we are concerned with today.

I want to speak about the "Don't worry," particularly with the 10,000,000 people in mind who have one kind or the other of "heart trouble."

For them a very useful little booklet has just been published by the Public Affairs Committee of New York and the American Heart Association.

Everybody who has real or imaginary heart trouble ought to get that pamphlet. After reading it the heart sufferer ought to take it to bed with him and put it under his pillow.

Dr. Irving H. Wright, president of the American Heart Association, has written a foreward for the pamphlet, which reads in part as follows:

"Fully as serious a problem as the heart patient who refuses to slow down, is the heart patient who GIVES UP and becomes a hypochondriac or a chronic invalid when it isn't necessary.

"What most heart patients and their families must learn is that there is a middle road to a good rich life of work and enjoyment open to them, if they will take it."

One of the greatest dangers when you have heart trouble is WORRYING about your health, says Alton L. Blakeslee, the author of the little book.

If you are sensible and don't worry, you are likely to live up to 70 or 80 or 90 years—in other words just as long as if your heart hadn't kicked up at all.

Kyle MacDonnell was flaunting gracefully around the arena as Kate; the eight-man orchestra (has harp: will travel) was playing beautifully, and the standees were standing.

I thought it all pretty wonderful and I recommend it and you got to understand that swimming in Terrell's pool and drinking his gin had nothing to do with it. Stop curling your lip at me!

Hollywood

—by Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—Handsome young Bob Jacks is in a tough spot—in one way, anyhow. If he produces a good picture, some people will say, "Zanuck did it." If it flops: "Well, it's Bobby's picture."

Bobby, or Robert L. Jacks—blue-eyed, Butch-haired, and athletic—is the son-in-law of 20th Century-Fox Boss Darryl F. Zanuck. After apprenticeship in studio exploitation and story-reading departments, he was upped to a producership.

His first film, "Lure of the Wilderness," is "doing very good business," he is glad to report. Also, the identifying phrase, "Darryl Zanuck's son-in-law," is used less frequently than it was with his name in the Hollywood columns. He's getting to be known on his own.

Jacks, 25, whose wife Darrylin expects their second child soon, recently was handed the year's plum assignment at the studio. It's "Man on a Tightrope," which Fox tub-thumpers are already proclaiming as the studio's probable Oscar entry in 1954. It starts shooting soon in and near Munich, Germany, which will double for Czechoslovakia.

It's about the efforts of a small circus, harassed by Communist officialdom and red tape, to escape from behind the Iron Curtain. A Communist secret-police officer played by Adolphe Menjou demands to know whether the Chinese juggler has sworn allegiance to Communist China. Circus manager Fredric March has to admit he hasn't thought to inquire. The little circus is forced off the road between towns one night; a convoy of trucks carrying slave laborers is going through.

Robert E. Sherwood wrote the screenplay; Elia Kazan will direct. The film is based on a story which appeared in an English magazine. Studio readers sent the customary synopsis around to the Fox producers one day a few months ago. Jacks immediately sent a note to Zanuck, "It has everything for a great motion picture."

"Twenty minutes later another producer walked into Mr. Zanuck's office, and then another," Bob related. "It turned out that every producer on the lot wanted the story except George Jessel, a musical man. Because I was first, I got it."

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Will For 1952

I. J. Whortlebury Zilch, being of what passes for a sound mind in these cock-eyed days, declare this my last will and testament:

I leave, trusting some trace of it can be found, my estate as follows, naming as executor anybody who understands simple arithmetic, adds and subtracts according to the old-fashioned traditions and doesn't think a man is ahead of the game if he is not so deep in the hole this year as last. (And I wish him luck and hope his figures will not be thrown out on the ground they are accurate.)

1. I apologize to all my heirs for the impending disappointments and can only say that if economic ideas held by the Government in the last 20 years it serves them right.

2. I hope there will be no contest as there will be little to spread around, even assuming the lawyers will not be rauacious.

3. To my wife I bequeath everything that can be dug up in cash, stocks or bonds, knowing she is used to big disappointments and too accustomed to the vagaries of our economic system to be surprised by anything.

4. I bequeath to her outright a photostatic copy of my bank statement of 1932 and assure her that if there is anything left in 1952 she should accept it as so much velvet. I also leave her my umbrella despite the Government theory that it ain't gonna rain no more.

5. I bequeath to local museum my copy of a Wentworth Elemental Arithmetic handed down to me by my grandfather who believed it was a reliable guide and that, as a book, it was never to be confuser with Aesop's Fables. If the museum wants it, I also throw in a set of Ben Franklin's famous thrift axioms.

6. To my creditors I bequeath the large net left to me by a circus trapeze performer named the Great Otto, who never realized that it would one day become equipment for any man trying to make both ends meet.

7. I leave to my family, share and share alike, my shot guns, bird guns and small arms for use by them against lecturers on the new economy, disciples of the idea that the more you owe the better your financial situation; all questionnaire distributors, vote solicitors, orators on the more abundant life, magicians, sleight-of-hand artists, fancy skaters on the "brink of an abscess," half-baked politicans hell bent for office, current ghost writers and all people who drop in to explain that by adding more water to the soup you are getting a more substantial meal.

8. To my Mexican hairless dog "Snuffy" I leave a bone from which all the meat has been removed, hoping he can subscribe to the new economic preachment that nothing is missing from the bone "because you owe it to yourself." And I give him my permission to chase off the property any Johnny-Come-Lately showing up with a new "ism," theory, blueprint for living or guide to general confusion.

(At this point, Mr. Zilch, it seems, called a halt. He checked and found he couldn't afford to die until things picked up.)

"Government is like a pump and what it pumps up is just what we are as a people"—Adlai Stevenson . . . That's the first time we ever heard of getting minks through a pump . . . The exchange of looks between Billy and Eleanor Rose when they pass is so frigid you could stage "Ice Capades" on it . . . Well, Taft is now wearing an "I Like Ike" button . . . "Seagulls Over Sorrento" first new play of the Broadway season, got the bird from most critics . . . Harry Truman says he expects to live to be 100 years old . . . Aw, come one, the Key West air ain't that good . . . A little old lady of 73 died in Queens, New York, the other day as Mrs. Gertrude Pitou, and few there were who knew, until they read it later, that she was once one of the most glamorous stars of the theater, Gertruda Coghlan, daughter of the late Charles Coghlan, famous playwright of an earlier era . . . And the wife of the late Augustus Pitou once a top Broadway producer . . . If Mr. Stevenson makes the White House, will the story be entitled "From Gags to President." . . . Arlai's motto is "Hew to the line, let the quips fall where they may." . . . "It is the first time I ever heard of a party saying 'Throw the rascals in,'" says Adlai . . . Well, if he had attended the revival of "Of Thee I Sing" last spring he would have heard it as one of the top laugh lines.

Lewenstein Awarded Scholarship

Martin Lewenstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewenstein, N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, has been awarded a scholarship to Albany State Teachers College according to information received this week by his parents.

A graduate of East Stroudsburg High School and East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, Lewenstein expects to use the scholarship for post-graduate work for his master's degrees.

After graduating from teacher's college in May, 1942, Lewenstein enlisted in the U. S. Air Force. He served for three years, with overseas duty in Europe.

Lewenstein teaches English and history at Strattford, N. Y. High School. His wife, formerly of Rye, N. Y., also is a teacher in nearby schools, instructing languages.

Building-Loan Association To Be Formed

Portland — Establishment of a building and loan association in this community is virtually assured, it was disclosed when the Community Board of Trade met at Bartonsville Hotel.

Samuel Weinberg, chairman of the organization committee, announced one individual has pledged $10,000 for the banking institution. Other pledges have reached $10,000, leaving only $5,000 remaining of the original goal of $25,000. Delaware Valley Savings and Loan Association has been approved as the name of the proposed establishment.

Members voted to hold their annual banquet Thursday, Nov. 6 at Columbia Hotel. The date was changed when it was learned the Lehigh Valley Auctioneers Show will be held in Allentown next month, orginal date for the fete. Frank Fritzgerald, chairman of the committee on arrangements, reported an orchestra will provide music and floor show will entertain for the banquet.

Fred Parsons, Pen Argyl insurance agent, was guest speaker for the occasion. He outlined benefits contained in a new social security law. Parsons suggested that each person familiarize himself with the new provisions and start planning his future now, using the benefits as a basis. A question and answer period followed.

Rene Zeutzius served as program chairman.

Bullet Hits Boy In Arm At Shohola

A ricocheting bullet struck a Brooklyn boy in the right forearm while he and a friend were target shooting on a Shohola farm, Milford State police reported yesterday.

The wounded boy was Robert C. Dilger, 16, who was treated by Dr. H. C. Benzenberg, Milford, then taken to St. Francis Hospital, Port Jervis.

Police said Alton C. Piner, 15, also of Brooklyn, had fired at the target on a tree. Dilger was walking back to the house. The .22 caliber slug struck a rock and then hit Dilger.

The accident occurred about 2 p.m. Sunday on the John Bisegons farm.

Draft Quota Set At 6,204 For November

Harrisburg (AP) — Pennsylvania's draft quota for November was set yesterday at a post-World War Two high of 6,204 men.

Lt. Col. Frank Graf, assistant state draft director, said up to 10,000 men will be summoned for physical examinations next month to meet the induction quota.

The highest quota since the outbreak of the Korean hostilities, he said, is due mainly to separations from the service of men inducted in the early days of the Korean War.

No one under 20 will be drafted under the quota, he said. College deferments and those for married men with children also will likely be unaffected, Graf explained.

Graf also disclosed that a backlog of 6,000 men who have been examined and found acceptable will provide most of the men needed for the November quota.

New physical examinations next month, he said, are needed to maintain the size of the pool.

Glass Walls Becoming More Popular

Glass "walls" and large window areas that help bring "the outdoors inside" are becoming more and more popular in today's houses.

The size of windows is one of the most conspicuous differences between houses of traditional design and those of contemporary design. In the typical small house of Cape Cod or other traditional ancestry, windows are small and usually placed symmetrically, while in some contemporary houses windows may occupy the entire wall from floor to ceiling.

Should Open on Secluded Spots

Large window areas should open on secluded gardens or terraces. Not only is a pleasant effect created, but the natural light is greater inside the house and sun heat comes through in the winter.

In many cases where the entire south wall of a house has been made of glass, enough heat has been admitted from the sun to keep the room comfortable without aid from a heating plant even when the temperature is zero outside. Utilization of solar heat as a "booster" of accessory to the regular heating system, however, is largely dependent upon geographic location of the house, orientation for this purpose, house design and other factors.

Suggestions for Picture Windows

Here are some hints builders pass along about large "picture windows" or "glass walls":

To avoid excessive sun coming in during the summer, the correct amount of roof "overhang" should be used above the window area.

If large window areas are located visible from the street, venetian blinds or drapes will be needed for privacy.

Proper overhang over southern exposures will keep out the hottest summer sun but will admit the sun during the winter.

When large window areas are located on the west side of the house, trees or treilises should be provided to provide natural shade from low sun in the afternoon. A little planting of this type helps privacy, too. An advantage of deciduous trees and vines as shade providers is that they give shade in the summer but admit the sun in the winter.

A glass wall or large glass area opening on a garden or lawn area makes a room seem larger and more livable.

Torquoise Blue Being Used

A room in which the woodwork is well-proportioned and the windows and doors are well placed can be made most attractive by painting the walls off-white and the woodwork a lovely shade of turquoise blue. Dark brown combines well with the turquoise and burnt orange and copper tones can be used effectively for accent in accessories and fabrics.

Eliminate Paint Remover Traces

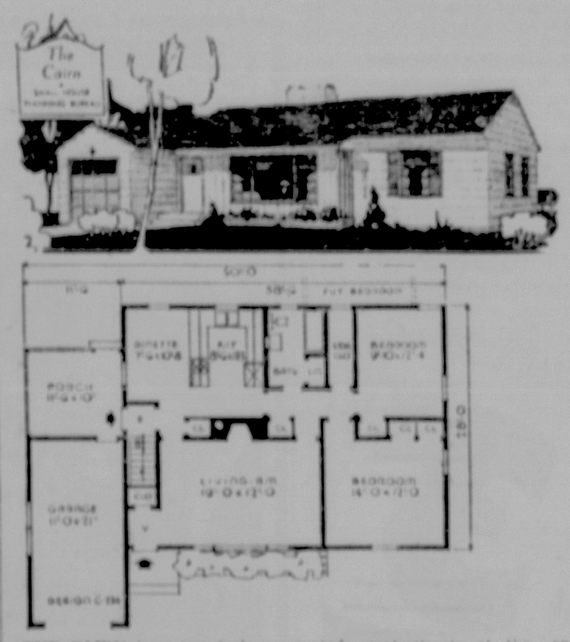
When paint-and-varnish remover is used, all traces of it should be eliminated before applying a new finishing coat. Turpentine, mineral spirits, or a product especially devised for the purpose, can be employed. Most removers contain wax. No varnish, paint or enamel will dry properly when applied over wax.

Corner Lot Has More Light, Space

In trying to decide whether or not to purchase a corner home or corner lot, consider the good and not so good points of such a location. A home on the corner has more space and light and air around it than one on a small lot in the middle of the block, and it is sure of these advantages permanently.

New Closet Light

A new automatic light for the closet is a one-piece automatic closet unit which can be installed in a few minutes. The switch operates automatically by the action of the closet door on the push button. The light goes on when the door is opened, goes off when it is closed.



THE CAIRN is a two bedroom plan that can be expanded into three bedrooms by adding a room on the rear, using the storage closet as a future hall. In addition, there is a full basement under the main house, living room, combination kitchen-dinette, attached garage and screened porch.

Cabinets separate the kitchen from the dinette, with open counter for serving. A double compartment sink is located under the windows, stove on the left and refrigerator on the right.

Closets are well distributed and include coat closets at the entrances, wardrobe bedroom closets, linen, storage and general closet in the hall, for a total of eight.

Exterior finish is siding, with asphalt shingles, brick chimney and planting area and vertical redwood in front.

Dimensions are 50 feet by 28 feet, Area 1,078 square feet, cubage 21,021 cubic feet.

For further information about THE CAIRN, write the Small Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn. in Canada, the Small House Planning Bureau of Canada, Box 1193, St. John's, New Brunswick.

Questions And Answers

I recently purchased a large plate-glass mirror to hang above the fireplace in our living room. The mirror is 33 inches wide and 44 inches in length. We have hung it so that the top extends out 10 inches from the wall. This way, the room is reflected nicely. I find, however, that most people hang mirrors flat against the wall. Please tell me which is correct?

M. G.

Flat against the wall is the correct and most effective way to hang a large mirror over a fireplace.

I would like to have my living room done in Chinese Modern. What would you suggest for wallpaper, draperies, scatter rugs, two easy chairs and a couch? I was thinking of having the ceiling tinted chartreuse and having the lamps and statuettes chartreusse.

J. P.

I suggest the following: Wallpaper, a Chinese pagoda pattern in gold, green and white on a black background; ceiling and draperies, chartreuse; scatter rugs, red; one easy chair, gold and the other green; couch, red; lamps, red and chartreuse; figurines, chartreuse.

Please suggest a color scheme for a dining room furnished with mahogany furniture? The woodwork is light oak and I would like to have the walls painted a light green. What colors should I use for the ceiling. Inside of china cupboard, linoleum, draperies and chair seat covers?

W. G. L.

For your dining room ceiling I suggest white; for the inside of the china cupboard, coral; for the linoleum, dark green and white marbleized; for the draperies, coral and for the chair seat covers, green and white stripe.

I have a yellow kitchen set and would like some advice on what color to paint the upper portion of the kitchen walls. The lower portion is wood. I also wonder if I could use red accessories in the room? My former kitchen was red and I have many pretty red accessories which I could use if they could be worked into the new color scheme. I would also like to know what color curtains to use?

R. M. P.

Chartreuse would be a good color for the upper walls and ceiling. For the curtains I suggest a pattern in red and green on a yellow background. The red accessories you have will fit in very well with this color scheme.

Enamel Is Varnish

Enamel is really varnish to which color, in the form of pigment, has been added. The resulting finish may have a high lustre or none at all, depending upon the ingredients. In either case, it is durable, waterproof and easy to keep clean.

Built-In Tv Possible At Little Cost

You may get television in your new home without much additional cost if it is built in, according to an article appearing in The Review, monthly magazine of the Society of Residential Appraisers.

A very successful newcomer in the field of built-ins, a television set is cheaper when the chassis is enclosed in a wall, if the builder sets up a mass production schedule such as several large builders have done. This substantially reduces the cost on each set, since the minimum cabinet that would be necessary can be cut from the same pattern.

Builders like the built-in TV because (1) it helps to sell the home, (2) the bulky round cable which loses less of the television signal than the flat line, can be easily concealed, (3) a permanent installation may be included in a "package" mortgage, (4) in lower-priced homes, building television into the living room may retire into gradual nonexistence the expensive but seldom used fireplace which has been the center of furniture placement in a living room, (5) it may well be another step toward raising minimum equipment requirements in the house of the future, just as built-in washers, dryers and garbage disposal units have been.

One drawback in connection with a built-in set is its stationary placement; furniture must be centered around the set. Of slight concern is the fact that the trend is toward larger and larger screens, and once installed the built-in set is limited, but jobs with the largest screens available are being installed.

An answer to that problem was seen at the 1950 Chicago Fair where a display home had several interior "window" walls and was equipped with a table model TV set mounted on a turntable. When revolved, the set could be viewed in four of the five rooms in the house.

New Faucet Development

A new development in the plumbing industry is a revolutionary single-handle mixing faucet, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau reports. The lone handle operates in an up-down motion for on and off, with the "up" position for "on". As the handle is turned to the left, the water from the faucet gets hotter. As the handle is turned to the right, the water becomes colder.

Matter Of Taste

Color preferences vary in different regions of the world. Research has shown that brunettes prefer red, while blonds prefer blue. Latin races like the warmer, more brilliant hues. The Nordics favor the cooler, softer tones.

Nurses Group Names Committees For New Year

The Registered Nurses Association of Monroe County opened the new season with a meeting on Monday night at the State Clinic building on Sarah St.

Mrs. Ann Shafer, president, appointed the committees to serve during the year: refreshments and hospitality, Mrs. Virginia DePuy; membership, Miss Charlotte Shupp; program, Mrs. Irene Else, Mrs. Charlotte Newhart and Mrs. Ruth Bicknell; flowers, Mrs. Mary Edlund; publicity, Mrs. Ester Musselman.

Miss Charlotte Shupp gave a report on the biennial meeting of the ANA held in Atlantic City in June.

A special speaker from the office of Civil Defense, Harrisburg, will be presented at the next meeting to which all nurses of the county are invited. The place of meeting will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Kreger (Miller's Photo Studio)

Gloria Beers H. L. Kreger Are Married

Kresgeville—The parsonage of Rev. Alton P. Albright, Gilbert, was the scene of a quiet late summer wedding when Miss Gloria June Beers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston S. Beers, of Palmerton RD 2 and Harold Lee Kreger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Kreger, Kresgeville, were married.

The bride wore an ankle-length dress of lace over taffeta with a matching hat.

The bride attended Palmerton High School and was graduated from Lehighton High School in the class of 1951. She is a member of Jerusalem's Lutheran Church, Trachsville.

Mr. Kreger is a graduate of Polk Township High School with the class of 1949, and was awarded the Keystone Farmer's degree in 1949. He is now employed on his father's farm in Kresgeville. Mr. Kreger is a member and deacon of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, Gilbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Kreger are residing with the bridegroom's parents.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Never did get to see the hats at the Federation meeting yesterday, but with 75 women there, there must have been some dillies. However, it's what's under the hats that counts—and that's obvious—even reporting from notes.

Isn't every county, for instance, who could substitute on the program at the last minute, an artist of the caliber of Mrs. Gillam.

Isn't every county federation president, for another instance, who could play the accompaniment for the featured soloist. And they also got plenty of inspiration—and laid themselves out a real job of work, too, for the coming year.

The coming Community Chest campaign has every board member humping these days, and if all the members who are trooping into WVPO to have their spot announcements recorded were put on one stage we could have some television show.

Miss Overfield is a graduate of the Stroudsburg High School and is employed at the First Stroudsburg National Bank. Mr. Foote is a graduate of the East Stroudsburg High School. He served 4 years in the U.S. Army and is now employed at John Kistler Printing. No date has been set for the wedding.

Shawnee Fire Co. Aux. Plans For Temporary Kitchen

Shawnee—The possibility of a temporary kitchen in Worthington Hall was discussed at the first Fall meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Shawnee Fire Company last week, and they planned to cooperate with the board of managers of the hall toward that end.

Mrs. Eugene Emmerich, president, offered a sink and worktable, which Charles Balmoss will install. Mrs. Walter Hope offered a two-burner electric stove.

Mrs. Donald Witcraft reported on the successful barn dance held in June at Benekill Lodge, and plans were made for a cake sale to be held in Worthington Hall, Saturday, September 27, beginning at 1 p.m. Mrs. Park Unangst is chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. Charles Mott and Mrs. Lawton Clapper; doughnuts will be called for.

Reports were given by Mrs. Walter Hope, secretary, and Mrs. Marcus Decker, treasurer.

It was announced that a household demonstration would be held at the next meeting with Mrs. Spencer Townsend, Mrs. Walter Stickevers and Mrs. Bernard Fairfax as hostesses.

Tom Kistler Is Honored By Employees

Thomas Kistler, of the Pocono Hosiery Mill, was given a surprise birthday party yesterday by the employees when they served a covered dish luncheon in his honor with a birthday cake, and flowers on the table. Mrs. Kistler, a guest at the luncheon, read an original poem of appreciation for their thoughtfulness.

Those present included Lewis Van Buskirk, Violet Terhune, Harriet Bronnet, June Mery, Hazel Smith, Ozella Getz, Mary Wolbert, June Staples, Leona Mery, Jean Sarley, Jane Frantz, Ann Heeter, Margaret Patterson, Hilda Mickey, Lillian Smith, Mary Terhune, Hazel Probst, Kitty Wolslayer, Bessie Smith, Gervaine Walton, Edith Hopper, Susie Werkheiser, Marie Smith, Lorraine Pipher, Albert Smale, Leah Durant, Flossie Snyder, Shirley Edinger, Goldie Schrock, Allen Williams, Alice Van Why, Iona Schaller, Emma Jean Smith, Arlene Ace, Bertha Risley, Dottie Ott, Keith Schwartz, Kenneth Heckman, Britton Allen, Amzi Williams, Eugene Kunkle, Henry Kissinger, Herbert Kistler, Arnold Pursell, Robert Singer and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kistler.

Mrs. Wilbur G. Price (Lenz Art)

Marsteller-Price Rites Stone Church

Violet Marsteller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Seip, of 603 James Ave., Phillipsburg, N. J., became the bride of Wilbur G. Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Price of Mount Bethel on Saturday, September 13, at the Christ Evangelical and Reformed church, Stone Church, Pa.

Rev. John Reagle performed the ceremony, while Edward Hancock was organist and Robert Saltern was vocalist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her grandfather, Walter Chatham, of Stewartsville, N. J., wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin, with long sleeves, fitted bodice and a skirt which fell in tiers of nylon tulle, and ended in a long train. Her fingertip veil was held by a crown of seed pearls and tulle, and she carried a prayer book with a white orchid and a shower of stephanotis.

Helen Kroheth, of Portland was maid of honor, and wore a green strapless net gown with a matching stole and picture hat. She carried a basket of gold pompons. The bridesmaids: Miss Elsie Kroheth and Miss Clora Pulaski of Portland; Miss Betty Lloyd of Stewartsville and Jane Carcoran, of Phillipsburg wore gowns of green net over gold skirts, and of gold net over green skirts with matching picture hats, and carried baskets of alternating green and gold pompons. The flower girl, Susan Marble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marble, Stewartsville also carried gold pompons.

Thomas Murphy, Bangor, was best man, the ushers were Paul Rasely, of Mount Bethel; Floyd Lallure, Portland; George Hill and George Ott of Bangor. James Prestorious of Easton was ring-bearer.

A reception at the Belvidere Firehall in Belvidere, N. J. followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Price are now on a wedding motor trip through the Western states.

On their return they will make their home in Mount Bethel where Mr. Price is associated with his father in farming. The bride is a graduate of Phillipsburg High School and has been employed in Belvidere, N. J., by Parsons Motors, Inc. Mr. Price was graduated from Bangor High School and is a member of Christ Ev. Reformed Church, Stone Church.

The family formerly lived in the Barrett section of Monroe County.

Mrs. C. Gerald Blake

Prominent Churchwoman To Speak Here

Mrs. C. Gerald Blake, of Scranton, dean of the Methodist Conference School of Missions, is to be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church on Thursday night, September 18, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Sturges Bogert, president, will preside at the meeting.

Theme of Mrs. Blake's talk will be "Quadrennial Theme and Ellphases". In addition to her mission post, Mrs. Blake is president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Wyoming Conference of the Methodist Church. She holds a local preacher's license and is listed in "Who's Who in Methodism".

A graduate of Syracuse University, Mrs. Blake is a past president of the Scranton City Council PTA and was one of the organizers of Good Will Industries. Her son, C. Gerald Blake Jr. is a student at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and is studying for the ministry.

Following the program, refreshments will be served by Circle 7, of which Mrs. Margaret Fisher is leader.

Sunday Visitors

Woman's Clubs Of County Federation Given Impetus For New Programs, Projects

The Monroe County Federation of Woman's Clubs yesterday launched their Fall and Winter projects with a federation meeting at Greene Acres Farm, Mellhaney, with 75 women representing the five member clubs, and the Saylorsburg Progressive Woman's Club serving as hosts.

Stressing the state theme for the year, "Living, Learning and Working Together," the members looked back to the state convention, reviewed the plans of the individual clubs for the year and exchanged ideas.

Mrs. Harry Shinnen, president of the county federation, presided at the meeting. Announcement was made of the northeast district meeting to be held Thursday, September 25 at the Century Club in Scranton, 612 Jefferson St., with Monroe County as one of the hostess clubs.

Reports of the presidents of the member clubs were given with Mrs. George Robinson of the Stroudsburg Woman's Club reporting 99½ per cent registration of club members for voting in the coming election and plans for public instruction in use of the voting machine.

Mrs. Marvin Krome, Saylorsburg Progressive Club, listed the programs for the year and the projects which include Scouting, the Penny Art Fund, T. B. Society and Polio drives.

Mrs. Clifford Gillam of the Barrett Woman's Club, told of the World Christmas Festival for overseas children with Barrett's package going to Korea this year; and the club's sponsorship of the Cancer Fund, T. B. Society activities and Scouting as well as the community Christmas program.

Mrs. Richard Fredenburg, of the Stroudsburg Junior Woman's Club, told of the Fashion Show for the benefit of the Salvation Army, this year's main welfare project and of the gift of $250 for each Children's Aid Society child at Christmas, as well as movies for children once a month.

Mrs. H. H. Voelker, of the Keystone Club of Matanioras, stressed community aids and educational projects.

Mrs. Jacob Ebling, of Barrett, program chairman, presented Mrs. Harry Shinnen and Mrs. John Sibley, in a round-up of the state convention.

Mrs. Warren N. Edson, vice president of the northeast district gave a practical talk for programs and projects following the federal and state theme of "Americanism Our Heritage."

Cornelia Stahler Gillam, substituting for Mrs. Elizabeth Conrad, the scheduled speaker who was ill, was warmly and enthusiastically received in a monologue on the garden club lover on "The Gourd Enthusiast."

Mrs. Keith B. Allen, state chairman of International Relations, was the chief speaker and urged the study of the Middle East in club work this year, through study groups or current event presentations. Explaining the importance of this area, she suggested study aids and suggested also that other committees could concentrate on this area.

The Progressive Woman's Club presented guest speakers and club presidents with corsages and had also brought flower arrangements for club room and dining room. Mrs. Lloyd Altemus was general chairman.

Special music featured Nancy Shumaker of Barrett singing "The Lord Is My Shepherd" accompanied by Mrs. Harry Shinnen.

Perfect coordinates for the dinner table are displayed now in our housewares department, in an arrangement combining a light blue, cotton and rayon Sintex cloth, delicate blue glassware, and china decorated with Currier and Ives prints. The prints are reproduced in varied shades of this one color. A 53-piece set of this dinnerware is only $19.95; 20 piece starter sets are $5.95. Looking at the world through rose-colored glasses may be sound psychology, but I'm one who loves having "the blues" occasionally. And if they're on a lovely table, so much the better! . . . Another attractive table setting shows Steubensville's "Horizon" — large plaids in green, brown and yellow —against a cloth of brown. Green glassware would be perfect with this . . . For the informal supper table, those new, vari-shaped Glasbake casseroles and divided dishes that fit into baskets, are "practical"-ly the smartest servers we've ever seen. Even when piping hot and right from the oven, they are glassy, classy, and passy . . . In our house, Christmas isn't Christmas without a creche, and we have always overlooked the crudities of our inexpensive, painted figures by remembering that they simply portray a tableau of that long ago "Silent Night." However, since seeing the delicately carved and painted creche from Germany in our gift department, it may be more difficult to take pleasure in our old one this year. The German woodcarver gives us a charming, sweet-faced Mary; a tiny, cradled babe; adorable cherubs with polka-dot wings, and, over all, a golden star, sending stream of radiance down upon the scene. Already there's a song in my heart—and sleighbells in my belfry . . . Was I surprised! Those crackled glass vases in our center aisle are less expensive—but more beautiful—than ever. The tallest is $4.98, and one of medium size with a wide top is only $2.98. Here are VANZES priced as VAYSES . . . Stopping to talk with Hattie Walters, I admired the "towels" of fine cotton hanging through rings on the wall. In bright colors, these have a fruit and vegetable print, cleverly designed to represent applique. "But those aren't towels," Hattie enlightened me. "They're 15 by 34 inch scarfs to be used on a serving table or refrigerator, and they match the 40 by 60 inch table cloths." The cloths sell at $2.49; the scarfs at $1.09 . . . Viola Feltham recently completed a bath-and-bedroom ensemble for a college girl that's smart as a cum laude graduate. The towels and washcloth were monogrammed by machine, and the bedspread was initialed in similarly designed letters of applique, 16 inches high. I'd approve of these —with letters high and MYty . . . 'Tis nice to be home today? Well you're always welcome at Wyckoff's!

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Pocono Lions will show the 1951 World Series film tonight at their regular meeting at Johnnies Inn, Pocono Summit, as the organization honors the baseball team that carried its banner in the Pocono Mountains Little League during the past summer. The World Series film is being loaned to the club by the Philadelphia Phillies, at the request of Bob Youngken, a club member. This is the second club in the league to honor its team, Mt. Pocono Rotary having held a similar program a short time previously.

Reports from the Bangor area indicate that several well known football experts are picking the Slaters to take the measure of Stroudsburg on Friday night by a margin of three touchdowns or more. These football authorities from the Slate Belt made their predictions after Stroudsburg had taken the measure of Lehighton last Friday, 32-6, at Gordon Giffels field. Speaking of the local ball yard brings to mind the fact that anyone wishing to obtain a seat for the Stroudsburg-Bangor contest this Friday must arrive on the scene bright and early.

Unofficial reports coming out of Slatington indicate that the townspeople know very little about their high school gridders, due to the fact that all practice sessions have been in secret, with only the coaching staff, players and managers in attendance. However, word leaking out of the drills indicates that Slatington's new coaching staff has constructed a strong team, one that opens its 1952 campaign against East Stroudsburg High on Friday, on the Slatington gridiron.

Bernie Fish, reserve halfback on the East Stroudsburg High grid contingent, is way out in front as far as hard luck is concerned at this early point in the present campaign. Fish was on the mend from a broken nose when he suffered a painfully sprained ankle in yesterday's workout on the Memorial Stadium practice field. WVPO plans to broadcast 10 football games this fall, featuring Stroudsburg High five times, East Stroudsburg High twice, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, twice and Bangor twice. Although the breakdown adds up to 11 contests, it does so only because both East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg are mentioned as the featured squad in the Thanksgiving Day struggle.

Bushkill still has the remainder of the week to prove that Ray Steele should be allowed to pitch in the Pocono Mountains League playoffs, despite the ruling of Clint Getz, league president, at the circuit's September meeting at the Bartonsville Hotel on Monday. The final announcement on Steele, expected sometime before Sunday's clash between Bushkill and Tannersville, will be made by John Wernett, league secretary, as Getz left for Canada early yesterday morning. Getz has authorized Wernett to rule on the affair, if and when any added information is procured.

Dewey Martling and Lloyd "Sonny" Woodling, catcher and pitcher respectively with Union City, Tenn., of the class "D" Kitty League, during the past summer months, have returned to their homes in East Stroudsburg and Reeders respectively. Martling formerly played with the Stroudsburg Poconos and Pocono A. C., while Woodling starred in baseball and basketball at Pocono High, played at ESSTC and also with Reeders, of the Pocono Mountains League. John Schoonover, manager of the Pocono A. C. entry in the Blue Mountain League for the past two seasons, is vacationing in the Washington D. C. area at the present time.

Although time seems to be running out on the Giants, Rev. Ernest T. Campbell still has hopes of seeing his favorite club pull a second straight miracle. However, on the other hand, Tommy Besecker is pulling hard for his staggering Dodgers to make the coveted World Series, a mark they failed to gain although enjoying virtually the same advantage at this time last year. Drivers from Emmaus and Allentown will campaign in the big car races to be held at Stroudsburg Speedway on Sunday, September 28.

The Eagles will be out for revenge when the charges of Manager Gail Fegley tangle with the General Electric Softball team of Scranton on Sunday, at Stroudsburg Playground. The General Electric club, managed by Jimmy McCarthy, former resident of Mt. Pocono, broke the 31-game winning streak of the Eagles in an earlier meeting on the same field. As mentioned previously McCarthy is a former baseball and basketball star at Pocono High school.

Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools begin tapering off today for Friday's respective football games. However, both squads have been hard at work during the first two days of this week, each drilling for almost two hours in Monday's rain. Both of the local clubs face tough opposition on Friday and each must be on top of its game, if it hopes to bag an early season victory.

East Stroudsburg Prepares For Slatington Invasion

Two Regulars Remain On Doubtful List

Injuries and illness made their first major appearance on the East Stroudsburg High school football front yesterday, when two starters were placed on the doubtful list for Friday's contest at Slatington, while a top-flight reserve is certain to miss the opening game of the campaign for the Cavaliers. Eastburg and Slatington are scheduled to clash at 8 p. m., on the latter's home field.

Paul "Candy" Miller, quarterback and passer in the "T" formation used by the charges of Coach Jack Kist, is one of the regulars on the doubtful list and will be replaced by Joe Chase, if he can't shake the charley horse that has hampered him in recent days.

Concern is also held for Dick Transue, regular left end, who was absent from school yesterday because of illness.

The substitute certain not to play on Friday is Bernie Fish, fast-stepping halfback who suffered a badly sprained ankle in yesterday's drill.

Stiff Workouts

East Stroudsburg went through a stiff two-hour workout yesterday and drilled for one hour and 40 minutes in the rain on Monday.

Kist announced last night that his starting line on Friday would look something like this: Transue or Don Herman, left end; John "Juice" Arnst, left tackle; "Bicky" Rodgers or Willard Butz, left guard; Jack Sommers, center; Carl Smith, right guard; Joe Shea, right tackle, and Jim Fritz, right end.

The backfield will feature either Miller or Chase at quarterback, while Dick Merring runs out of the left halfback slot, George Litts from fullback and Jim Fritz from right half.

Leon Alberts will be waiting to fill in at either fullback, left or right half, while Stan Borstein and Joe Antonocci are subs for the fullback post.

Mike Palmasano, "Booter" Miller and Jack Anthony are three linemen almost certain to see action against Slatington.

Kist stated last night that his squad would begin tapering off for Friday's contest today, as his charges hope to open the 1952 campaign with a victory, although the game is being played on foreign soil.

Cards Clip Braves Twice

Boston (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals pounded out six home runs, two of them consecutively by Solly Hemus, last night while sweeping a two-night doubleheader from the Boston Braves by 8-6 and 5-1 margins.

Homers

Both of the Hemus blows came in the first game as did four-baggers by Stan Musial and Larry Miggins. Dick Sisler and Hal Rice hit for the circuit in the nightcap.

OPS Approves Handling Charges

New York (AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization said yesterday that because World Series tickets usually are sent by registered mail major league clubs could charge up to 75 cents for handling them.

Reason

James G. Lyons, OPS regional director for New York and Northern New Jersey, said this was due to a 25 cent advance in postal registery rates. The 75 cents ceiling price represents 55 cents for registered mail and a normal 20 cents handling charge by the club, Lyons explained.

Red Sox Will Try Anything

St. Louis (AP)—George Schmees, a much-heralded outfielder in the Pacific Coast League last season, will make his debut as a Boston Red Sox pitcher today against the St. Louis Browns.

Weak At Plate

Schmees, sent to the Red Sox by the Browns recently after a weak performance at the plate, is a 28-year-old southpaw.

Manager Lou Boudreau originally had named Sid Hudson as the Red Sox probable for today's game.

Davey Faces First Serious Opponent In Graziano Today

By Charles Dunkley

Chicago, (AP)—It'll be a warclub against a rapier as former middleweight "Rocky" Graziano tries to bash in the unbeaten records of will-o-the-wisp welterweight "Chuck" Davey at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

The nationally televised and broadcast 10-rounder 10 p. m. (EDT) will attract upwards of 12,000 lured by the first test of clever southpaw Davey against a real slugger in 37 pro fights.

At 149, Davey will spot Graziano 10 or 12 pounds. The Rock must weigh in at 158, but figures to be 160 or over in the ring.

Graziano, who floored Sugar Ray Robinson but then was knocked cold by the middleweight champ in the same arena last April 16, was an eight and one-half to five betting favorite.

Long Layoff

Graziano hasn't fought since that third-round knockout by a furious Robinson. At 30, Graziano is regarded by some experts as over the hill. Finding out how far will be the problem of the slick boxing Davey, who has a worry of his own—eye brows that were badly lashed in his last bout against Carmen Basilio here July 16.

The 26-year-old Davey, one of the best boxers in collegiate history for Michigan State, caught Ike Williams on the way out last March 26 and battered the once great lightweight champ into utter helplessness.

That was Davey's 32nd pro fight, but only his first against a name opponent. Since then, he captured the fancy of video audiences with two one-sided bouts with Chico Vejar, who turned out to have a glass stomach.

A crowd of 12,000 would bring the sponsoring International Club a gate topping $60,000, another testimonial to the drawing power of the colorful Graziano, who doesn't have a master's degree like Davey.

Record Major Ready

Record Major League keglers swing into action at the Pocono Bowling Center today, at 7 p.m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Community Bar vs. VFW.

Alleys three and four—Shoemaker Signs vs. Line Material.

Alleys five and six—A. C. Miller vs. Scheller and Kitchen.

Alleys seven and eight—Globe Furniture vs. Fabel's Dairy.

Heller's Lady Frances, owned by by George Heller, Butler, N.J., won the 15-inch all-age bitch class in the final day of the 11th annual AKC field trial, at Maple-in-the-Pines. The four-day event was held on the home grounds of the Monroe Beagle Club.

Paterson's Bugler Nellie, the property of Parl Paterson, Union, N.J., came home in second place and Lilly Pond Redhead, belonging to Norman Rampe, Liberty, N.Y., finished third.

Fourth Spot

Rahway Valley Dutchess, owned by Ray Miller, Orange, N.J., finished fourth and Woodland Royal Girl, also owned by Miller, captured reserve honors in this class.

A total of 15 entries took part in the final class on the agenda.

Judges for the four-day meet were John Pape, Punxsutawney, and Donald Connell, West Chester.

The next event at Maple-in-the-Pines will be the all-age AKC sanctioned field trial on Sunday, October 12.

Rhine Post Wins GI World Series

Kaiserslautern, Germany (AP)—Winner of the GI World Series baseball championship is the Rhine Military Post which knocked out the 28th Division Artillery, 2 to 1, yesterday.

Edge

The "Rhinos" took four games in the best of seven series against two victories for the 28th.

Indians Nip Senators In Ten Frames, 4-3

Cleveland (AP)—A double by Larry Doby with two out in the 10th scored the winning run for the Cleveland Indians last night as they beat Washington 4-3 to stay within two and one-half games of the league-leading New York Yankees.

Mike Garcia pitched the full game for his 21st victory against 10 defeats. In the Tribe half of the 10th Bob Avila singled to deep short and crossed the plate with the winning marker on Doby's blow.

Rally

The game-winning rally broke up seven innings of brilliant pitching by righthander Bob Porterfield.

Washington	002 010 000	0	3	10	0
Cleveland	120 000 000	1	4	8	1

Phillies Win Over Reds, 4-2

Philadelphia, (AP)—Robin Roberts won his 25th victory of the ebbing National League season last night as the Philadelphia Phillies gained a 4-to-2 decision over the Cincinnati Reds.

Big Blow

A sixth inning triple by first baseman Eddie Waitkus with two on base was the pay off blow for the Phillies.

Cincinnati	200 000 000	2	5	0

Red Sox Win Over Brownies

St. Louis, (AP)—Reliefer Ellis Kinder protected a fast-fading seven-run lead last night to give Boston's Red Sox an 11-7 victory over the St. Louis Browns that moved the Sockers into an undisputed fifth-place position in the American League.

Gonzales Gains Verdict

Newark, N. J. (AP)—Anthony "Tex" Gonzales, 155, East Orange, outpointed Bruce Ubaldo, 155, Philadelphia, in the feature eight-round bout at Meadowbrook Bowl last night.

A's Earn Split With White Sox

Chicago (AP)—A two run homer by Eddie Robinson, a pair of doubles by rookie Rocco Krsnich and a cluster of three hits by Sherm Lollar helped the Chicago White Sox to a 7-1 closing triumph over Philadelphia last night after the Athletics had won the doubleheader opener 2-1.

The split kept Chicago in third place by a one and one-half game margin.

Dodgers Take Big Step Toward Coveted National League Flag

Brooklyn, (AP)—Stout relief pitching by rookie Jim Hughes, late of Montreal, and Joe "What Again!" Black featured the Brooklyn Dodgers' 4-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates last night as the Brooks increased their first-place margin over the New York Giants to four games.

Gil Hodges walloped his 32nd home run, and "Duke" Snider hit his 20th to pace the Dodgers' attack against loser Murry Dickson.

With Brooklyn ahead, 4-2, and the tying runs on base, Manager Charlie Dressen summoned Black from the bullpen, and the brilliant fireman struck out rookie Frank Thomas to end the game.

Relief

In the fourth, the Pirates, trailing 2-0 on Hodges' second-inning circuit clout with a mate aboard, had put together two singles and two walks to score one run and load the bases with nobody out. But Hughes, with the aid of a double play, stifled that threat.

Hughes allowed only two hits through the next four innings as the Dodgers picked up single runs off Dickson in the fourth and fifth. Snider lashed his homer in the fourth, and singles sandwiched around a sagifice in the fifth boosted the Dodger lead to 4-1.

The Pirates staged a threat in the ninth when a base on balls and singles by George Metkovich and Ralph Kiner produced one run and put the potential tying run on the base.

Marciano, Walcott In Good Condition

Grossinger, N. Y., (AP)—What was expected to be a routine physical examination of "Rocky" Marciano by the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission turned into a noisy rhubarb yesterday regarding a return bout contract.

Dr. Joseph Bartone, who arrived at Marciano's camp with George Jones, chairman of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, pronounced the challenger for "Jersey Joe" Walcott's heavyweight title next Tuesday night at Philadelphia in "very good condition."

Examination

Dr. Bartone earlier yesterday examined Walcott in the first leg of the aerial training camp safari at Jersey Joe's camp in Atlantic City, N. J. He and another doctor found Joe in excellent condition.

The rhubarb developed when Al Weill, Marciano's manager, objected to signing a return bout contract on a Pennsylvania State contract form.

Campanella In Hospital

Brooklyn (AP)—Roy Campanella, Brooklyn catcher was found suffering from blood poisoning in his left arm just before the Dodgers' game with the Pittsburgh Pirates last night and was removed to Long Island College Hospital.

Cubs Inflict Costly Defeat On Giants Behind Hacker, 9-0

New York (AP)— Leo Durocher gambled and lost yesterday and Chicago's sharpshooting Warren Hacker chilled the New York Giants' pennant hopes by pitching the Cubs to a three-hit 9-0 victory at the Polo Grounds.

Durocher looked past his regular pitching staff and called upon a rookie southpaw, Jack Harshman, to start the important conflict.

Harshman, a former Giant first baseman just recalled from Minneapolis two days ago, permitted the Cubs to get off to a two-run start in the first two innings and then walked the first two men in the third before being replaced by Al Corwin, the second of four Giant pitchers.

Before the third inning had run its course the Cubs had pushed over four more runs, three of them coming on Harry Chiti's home run blast against the left-field scoreboard.

Double disaster struck the Giants because their inspirational Negro outfielder, Monte Irvin, re-injured his right leg while fielding a hit by Bill Serena in the seventh inning.

The extent of the injury was described as a bruised Achilles' tendon.

The Cubs opened their offensive in the first with singles by Serena and Randy Jackson, producing the first run.

In the second Dee Fondy hit the first pitch against the photographer's cage for his tenth home run. Chiti's fourth round-tripper of the season came in the third, scoring "Hank" Sauer and Dee Fondy in front of him, and Serena poled one in the ninth, bringing home Frank Baumholtz.

Yankees Tame Tigers On Three Hits

Detroit, (AP) — Rookie lefthander Bill Miller tamed the last place Detroit Tigers yesterday with only three hits to strengthen the front-running New York Yankees' pennant potential. Joe Collins and "Hank" Bauer homered in the 7-0 victory.

Homers

Miller hurled hitlessly until Johnny Groth singled with one out in the sixth as the Yanks moved nearer their fourth straight American League pennant.

Collins homered into the upper right field stands after Charley Silvera, subbing for the injured "Yogi" Berra, doubled in the third. New York ..... 002 012 200—7 15 2

Field Events Listed For Clubs

Northampton—The Lehigh-Northampton County Racoon Protective Association will conduct the coondog field trials at the first annual Sportsmen's Field Day sponsored by the Northampton County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, Sunday, here on the grounds of the Lappawinzo Fish and Game Protective Association, Northampton. The rain date is September 28. The trials are scheduled to start promptly at noon. All entries should be in the hands of the committee chairman by 11:45 a. m. Ribbons will be awarded in each trial for tree, fast and second line. An entry fee of $1.00 will be charged.

Other events include a junior rifle team match scheduled for 10 a. m., and competition is open to all junior rifle teams in the Lehigh Valley. The junior rifle teams of the Hellertown Sportsmen's Association will give an exhibition on small bore shooting.

Plug and bait casting tournaments are scheduled for 11 a. m. and 4 p. m. The Hellertown club will conduct the contest which will be open to all Lehigh Valley casting fans. The contest will be divided into three classes, expert, novice and below license age. Trophies and prizes will be awarded in each class. An exhibition on plug casting will be presented both morning and afternoon. An entry fee of 50 cents will be charged.

Log Sawing

A log sawing contest under the direction of the Wind Gap Rod and Gun Club is scheduled for 6 p. m. All entries must be in the hands of the committee chairman by that time. Prizes amounting to $50.00 will be awarded to the winning teams.

A small bore rifle and pistol shooting gallery will be conducted by the Easton Sportsmen's Association. The Raubsville Sportsmen's Club will conduct a small bore skeet shoot. Block shoots for poultry and hams will be conducted by the East Bath Rod & Gun Club. The above mentioned events will begin at 9 a. m. and run continuously until dusk.

The affair is open to the public and picnic tables are available to those bringing a basket lunch.

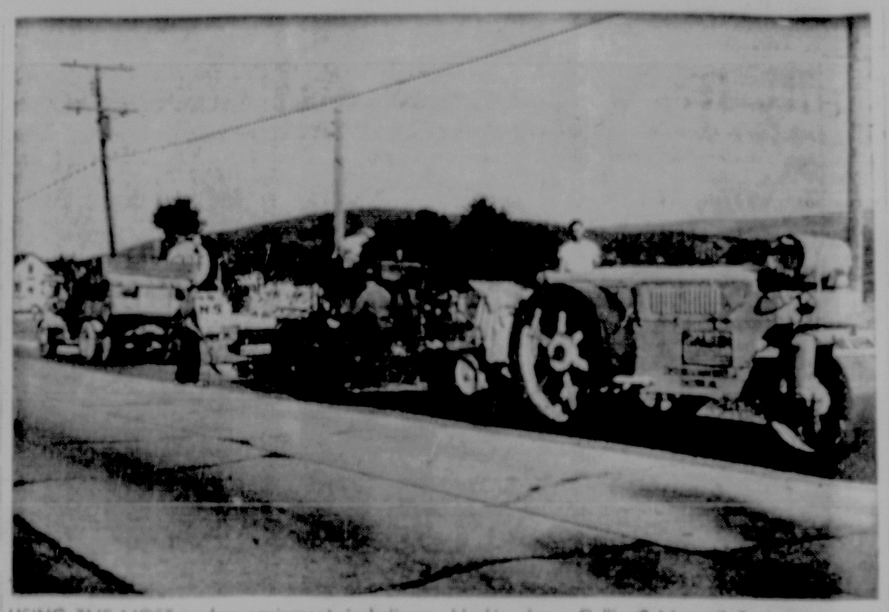
Playhouse To Close

Mountainhome — The Pocono Playhouse brings its 1952 season to an end on Saturday night when the last curtain falls on the currently playing comedy "On Approval," starring Arthur Treacher.

Mrs. Rowena Stevens, producer-manager of the theater expressed herself as being highly pleased with the success of the season and said that plans are already under way for an equally enjoyable 1953 season. She gave the highest praise to the newspapers, radio stations and other public organizations in the surrounding communities for their cooperation and help in making the season a success and expressed her appreciation for the enthusiasm and loyalty of the patrons on the theater.



USING THE MOST modern equipment, including a blacktop layer, Collins & Maxwell, Easton contractors are rushing first lane of new surface on the Foxtown Hill road. Truck is about to dump blacktop material in machine. Material is immediately compacted by heavy roller. It is closed to traffic until fully "set." (Daily Record Photo)

Romans Had Hedges

Ancient Romans used hedges of myrtle, laurel and box in their gardens.

Quicks Celebrate Anniversaries

Former County Commissioner and Mrs. Willard L. Quick quietly observed their 40th wedding anniversary and Mrs. Quick's birthday yesterday at their Main St. restaurant.

They received the congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends. A magnificent bouquet of American Beauty roses, presented to Mrs. Quick and displayed in front of the restaurant, signalized the double anniversary.

Y. P. Orchestra To Assemble

Rehearsals for the third season of the Young People's Orchestra will begin tonight at 8 in the auditorium of Stroudsburg High School. There are openings in the string section and any one interested in playing is asked to get in touch with the conductor, Thomas H. Knepp.

This group of local and nearby musicians is anxious to have qualified high school students and adults join with it in "making music," Mr. Knepp said.

Men are five times as likely to be color blind as are women.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 17, 1952

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Fine Mercury aspect but Mars position is antagonistic. Day excellent for mental work, keen planning and managing of affairs. Avoid harmful contention. Be genial.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Rather mild tendencies going to very benefic vibrations during P.M. and all of tomorrow. Avoid spasmodic decisions, hasty trys at this and that.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Grand influences from your Mercury should inspire you to achieve as much as you possibly can in a productive way. But don't be arbitrary, or vindictive.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—On whole pleasant but not very stimulating rays from your Moon and other planets. Mars and Uranus aspects tend to "bossiness," doing things too quickly and unthinkingly. Be careful!

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Not all auspicious nor is it an unfriendly day, greatly up to you and the demands of your position. Plan well before undertaking new tasks.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Should be very responsive day for your interests, business and private. Brain work highly favored. Avoid harmful irritating people.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Advice to Taurus helpful to you. No need to worry; progress is in the wind if you work for it. Extra care advised in finances, buying and selling generally.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Your Mars in warlike position today says to be calm. You will have better results from your efforts as well as feel more content. Much good can be accomplished.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—You may not find everything to your liking or monetary returns from investments, sales, etc., as lavish as you'd wish but day is favorable for good work.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Indications now stress extra careful handling of business and home matters, finances, investments, etc. Study, teaching, general brain work highly sponsored.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Uranus position now strongly seizes quick, unpremeditated decisions or changes of plans, methods or matters. Be cooperative and you will gain.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—More favorable than otherwise with day improving generally as it advances. Plan, get things ready for bigger tomorrows when indications are much more favorable. Good going!

YOU BORN TODAY belong to a highly intellectual group, fond of learning and improving others' welfare. Are not quarrelsome but are exacting of self and others. Be sure your well-intentioned criticism is discreetly given. Don't overdo and injure health. Excellent months ahead. Birthdate: Frances K. Hutchinson, author; Walter Alison, educator.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

County's Industrial Output Up $6,000,000 In Year

Plants Add 522 Workers To Payrolls

Harrisburg (AP)—William S. Livengood Jr., secretary of internal affairs, yesterday reported that the value of the products of the productive industries of Monroe County increased by $6,027,000 in a year's time.

Secretary Livengood said that reports compiled by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Internal Affairs showed that Monroe County industries produced goods worth $41,668,200 in 1951 as compared with $35,641,700, twelve months earlier.

Mr. Livengood said that the amount paid as compensation to employes increased during the same period from $11,563,200 to $13,844,500, while there was a gain of approximately 500 in the number of persons employed.

The reports showed that in 1950, Monroe County had 88 industrial, mining and quarrying establishments with a total of 4,473 wage and salaried employes. In 1951, there were 98 establishments with 4,995 employes, of which 4,271 were on wages and 704 on salary.

The reports also showed that the value added by manufacture increased from $18,464,400 to $21,671,700 in the twelve-month period and that the capital invested advanced from $8,655,700 to $9,273,000.

Three Enter Guilty Pleas

The trio charged some months ago with 15 thefts in three counties were back in Monroe County Jail yesterday after having been shuttled to Northampton County Court to plead guilty on two burglary charges there.

The three were taken to Easton Monday by Sheriff Jacob Altemose. After their guilty pleas before Judge William G. Barthold, they were returned to jail in Monroe.

Judge Barthold deferred sentence, Sheriff Altemose said, until he could confer with President Judge Fred W. Davis of Monroe County.

Judge Barthold indicated he felt that Richard LaBar, 28, and Joseph Miller, 22, both of East Stroudsburg, should be sentenced by Monroe courts while Harry ZeRuth, 19, Portland, might well be sentenced by Northampton courts.

All three of the young men were under earlier deferred sentencings after pleading guilty of a number of thefts in Monroe County.

Two Properties Change Hands

Louise Smith, Barrett Township, has sold a small property in that township to Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Shaller, Barrett Township, according to deeds recorded yesterday at the courthouse.

Another small tract was transferred from Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Price, Mount Bethel, to Mr. and Mrs. George S. Idell, Philadelphia. The lot is in Pocono Township adjoining present lands of the Idells.

Dr. K. Phillippsberg's office will be closed from Sept. 19th to Sept. 29th, inclusive.

Milford Pastor Stricken Seriously Ill With Polio

Milford—Rev. David J. E. Sweet, pastor of Good Shepherd Church here, was reported in "serious condition" last night at St. Luke's Hospital, Bethlehem, where he is suffering from polio.

The pastor is in an iron lung. He was stricken at his home Monday. The clergyman was visited yesterday by his wife, the former Edna Fitzpatrick of Stroudsburg. Mrs. Sweet was unaffected by the disease. The Sweets have two daughters, Cynthia, three, and Deborah, eight months.

Rev. Sweet is a graduate of Lehigh University and Virginia Theological Seminary, Alexandria, Va., and is a World War Two veteran who was recently commissioned in the Air Force reserve.

He was ordained in June, 1951, and has been assigned to the Good Shepherd Church since that time.
